An exciting new kind of Siglo de Oro workshop! Patrick Allies will be joined by Gareth Thomas (professional singer and expert editor of early music) for a session on singing Tallis and Byrd from the original notation. No experience of this kind of thing is required! The repertoire for the evening will be 5-part Latin motets from Byrd and Tallis' Cantiones of 1575.

Please note this workshop will be led by Patrick and Gareth only. Maximum of 20 places.

Tickets £22.50 (print your own scores) or £27.50 (printed scores included)

Monday August 7th and Tuesday August 8th - Summer School

11am to 4.30pm, both days

Our theme this year is Lesser-Spotted Byrd... Sorry for the awful pun.

While Byrd's music is being rightly celebrated in this anniversary year, we are offering the chance to sing some of his magnificent music that doesn't get performed quite so often.

A few new things based on last year's feedback: the day will be 30 minutes longer, the smaller consort groups will be mixed up so that you will get to work with all the Siglo de Oro singers, and we will send out an online form in advance so we know what each participant is hoping to get out of the course.

Repertoire:

William Byrd	Haec dicit Dominus (SATBarB)
William Byrd	Viri Galilaei (SSATB)
William Byrd	Retire my soul (SSATB)
William Byrd	Miserere mihi, Domine (SAATTB)
William Byrd	This Sweet and Merry Month of May (SATB)
William Byrd	Tristitia et anxietas (SAATB)
William Byrd	Laetentur caeli (SATTB)

Please note this workshop will be led by Patrick and five singers from Siglo de Oro. Maximum of 32 places. It is likely that a large proportion of the time will be spent in smaller groups.

Tickets £140 (print your own scores) or £147.50 (printed scores included)

Please note that our summer school does sell out, so early booking is advised.
